OF SHAWNEE, OKLAHOMA

VISITSHAWNEE.COM

In 2007, then-mayor Chuck Mills undertook the "Horses in the City" project, to celebrate Shawnee's part of Oklahoma's centennial.

Today, nearly three dozen of these "painted horses" stand proud throughout Shawnee, hand-painted by local artists, and more are added each year!
